Section 6. Union Participation in New Employee Orientation

During the course of any employment orientation program for new career or non-career employees, or in the event a current postal employee is reassigned to an APWU bargaining unit, a representative of the Union representing the craft or occupational group to which the new or current employees are assigned shall be provided ample opportunity to address such new employees, provided that this provision does not preclude the Employer from addressing employees concerning the same subject. In addition, at the time any non-career employees become eligible for health insurance, the APWU will be provided ample opportunity to address such employees on this subject.

HAVING CONVERSATIONS WITH EVERY NON-MEMBER

Principles of union organizing

- Having a strategy and a plan
- Taking action
- One-on-one conversions

Effective Organizer

- Has passion and motivation
- Has a willingness to challenge others
- Has social skills – LISTEN
- Has the ability to work as team

GIVING

What are we trying to get from the NM?

- Prior union knowledge
- Join
- Involvement

GETTING

- What do we have to give the NM?
  - Power
  - Education
  - Opportunity to be involved

INTRODUCTION

- When introducing yourself, let them know who you are.
- Make the connection between the two of you.
- Say who you are.
- Stress the importance of the conversation.
- Start with general questions - How long have you worked for the Post Office?

LISTEN & GET THEIR STORY

Get your coworker to talk about their issues at work by asking:

- ✓Fact-based, detailed questions (Who, What)
- ✓Probing follow-up questions
- ✓"Who decides" questions

Find out all of their issues; don't stop them after their first issue.

Do not get defensive nor feel you have to solve all of their issues.

Do not make promises to take care of their issues!

"Who decides" questions helps them see the source of their frustration.

EDUCATE OUR COWORKERS

- They can't change things on their own
- No 3rd party here
- The Union vs My Union
- We build our POWER in the workplace by standing together

ASK THE QUESTION…

You have to ask the question:

"Are you ready to stand with us today?"

INGNORE ANY EXCUSES!

Challenge them to take action.

Not about just paying dues - Ask for their commitment to get involved
