49. What is the process for resolving Department of Transportation medical disputes? Response: An employee may appeal an adverse result of a certifying examination to the District Occupational Health Services office with a copy of the concern, without revealing the medical condition in question, to their immediate supervisor. If necessary, the employee may ask for an independent third-party medical assessment by a physician jointly chosen by the Postal Service and the employee. The results of the independent review will stand as the final decision. The Senior Area Medical Director will not have the authority to reverse or alter the results of a certified medical examiner’s determination of employee’s fitness or be involved in the process.
