A Commitment to Diversity

The Postal Service is committed to fostering and achieving a work and learning environment that respects and values a diverse workforce. Valuing and managing diversity in the Postal Service means that we will build an inclusive environment that respects the uniqueness of every individual and encourages the contributions, experiences and perspectives of all people.

It is essential that our work and learning environments be free from discrimination and harassment on any basis.

In our classrooms, on the workroom floor, in casual conversation and in formal meetings, employees and faculty are asked to encourage an open learning environment that is supportive of everyone.

Course materials and lectures, classroom debates and casual conversation should always reflect the commitment to safety and freedom from discrimination, sexual harassment and harassment on any prohibited basis. Instructors and class participants are expected to support this commitment.

If you find course material that is presented in the classroom or in self-instructional format that does not follow these guidelines, please let an instructor know immediately.

If classroom discussions do not support these principles please point that out to the instructor as well.

Diversity is a source of strength for our organization. Diversity promotes innovation, creativity, productivity and growth, and enables a broadening of existing concepts.

The Postal Service’s policy is to value the diversity of our employees, customers and suppliers, and to do what is right for our employees and the communities we serve, thereby ensuring a competitive advantage in the global marketplace.

Introduction to On-the-Job Training

The Lead Sales and Services Associate Training, Course 10023330, is a combination of training including; 5 hours of eLearning followed by 16 hours of classroom instruction, and 16 hours of on-the-job training (OJT).

The OJT is to be personalized based on the bidder's experience, their LSSA Worksheet from the classroom portion, and the nature of the postal facility of their assignment.

The classroom and eLearning portions of this program include the following modules:

Introduction

Module 1: Roles and Responsibilities

Module 2: Leadership

Module 3: Communications

Module 4: Unit Operations

Module 5: Daily Unit Financial Report

Module 6: Customer Service and Revenue Generation

These topics are presented using instructional methodologies, such as discussions, activities, role-play, and eLearning. Other training elements will be presented in an on-the-job environment with hands-on practice. The primary goal of this training program is to provide LSSAs with the skills and knowledge to perform their duties.

The OJT is 16 hours and may be spread over 5 days to allow for practice of activities that are not done every day. (For example, if the LSSA is going to be the custodian of the Unit Reserve, their OJT must include practice with ordering stock).

OJT Instructors are encouraged to follow the guideline provided, and review the LSSA Worksheet completed in the LSSA classroom training located in the LSSA Workbook with the trainee at the end of each day. The LSSA on-the-job training is not to be performed on overtime. Any exceptions must be approved by the appropriate manager or supervisor.

The OJT Instructors are to be given adequate time to prepare for providing OJT. The OJT is designed for the new LSSA to obtain hands-on experience in a designated retail unit where they work one-on-one with an OJT Instructor. It is recommended all of the OJT occur at the new LSSA's bid location.

Use this On-the-Job Training Guide to provide learners with the appropriate on-the-job training, and to closely monitor the complete on-the-job training process. Adapt your training techniques to meet the needs of the learners. For instance, some learners will be able to perform the tasks with very little assistance and others may need much more practice and guidance.

Remember, OJT is critical to the success of this training program. Employees who are responsible for on-the-job training of newly assigned LSSAs are to be provided a copy of the participant guide and OJT guide, as well as time to review the material. This will ensure reinforcement of the same general messages as the classroom and eLearning training.

Module 2: Responsibilities of the OJT Instructor

Instructional Methods:

- Demonstration
- Observation
- Coaching

Materials Required:

- Lead Sales and Services Associate On-the-Job Training Guide, Course 10023302

Responsibilities of the OJT Instructors

As an On-the-Job Instructor, you play an important role in this training. Your willingness to share information, demonstrate how to perform tasks, and answer questions is essential to the success of the training process.

You should show a caring attitude and encourage learners to ask questions and to share experiences and information. This creates an environment of trust in which learners are more likely to learn and apply the information. Your goal is to help the learners understand the tasks and apply them to the job. Allow the new LSSA to provide feedback and share what they see as obstacles in completing a task. Use this feedback to determine if further instruction is needed. Follow this process for each of the LSSA On-the-Job tasks.

You will:

- Show learners how to perform a task
- Observe learners performing the task
- Repeat this process as needed

Enclosed in the back of this guide is an OJT Task Checklist that you will use to provide the learner with an appropriate learning experience. Management will reproduce the OJT Task Checklist and Certification of Completion locally. Initial the proper item on the checklist as each item is completed. Learners may indicate items for which they would like supplementary coaching in the additional assistance column. Follow instructions for completion of OJI certification of completion listed on page 22.

Setting the Stage for OJT

An OJT reinforces classroom and eLearning training and provides learners with the knowledge and skills to perform LSSA duties. Explain that you will demonstrate tasks and observe them in performing LSSA duties. Provide appropriate coaching, feedback, and positive reinforcement.

Demonstrate and Experience Tasks

As the On-the-Job Instructor, you will be introducing the new LSSA to the daily duties and responsibilities of their position. As you introduce new tasks, have the LSSA observe, then explain each task, and provide instruction on each step of the task. Once demonstrated, allow learner to perform the same task with coaching as needed. While observing the new LSSA perform tasks, encourage questions to obtain feedback, and verify the learner's understanding of task. Repeat this process as needed throughout the entire on-the-job instruction.

OJT LSSA Worksheet Review

The OJT Instructor and the trainee will review and discuss the LSSA Worksheet in private to discuss and plan for continued development for the remainder of the OJT. The OJT instructor should use positive reinforcement to promote a learning environment where the trainee is comfortable and demonstrates proficiency.

Module 3: Duties of Facility Manager or Designee

Instructional Methods:

- Demonstration
- Observation
- Coaching

Materials Required:

- Lead Sales and Services Associate On-the-Job Training Guide, Course 10023302

Duties of Facility Manager or Designee

On-the-Job Training Preparation

Review Lead Sales and Services Associate On-the-Job Training Guide, Course 10023302 and Lead Sales and Services Associate Participant Guide, Course 10023330 to become familiar with the materials. Have learner report to the on-the-job instructor (OJI) and explain that the OJI will conduct on-the-job training.

Contact your district Learning Development and Diversity staff to obtain multiple copies of on-the-job training materials and participant guides. Provide a copy of these materials to each OJI. Management will also allow four hours for each OJI to review upon initial use of materials prior to providing OJT.

The station manager, postmaster, or designee will conduct this portion of the training on the first day.

Welcome Session

- Welcome the learner and introduce them to other employees
- Clarify any questions the learner might have concerning the OJT process and LSSA duties
