4A Ordering, Receiving, Issuing, and Returning Stock

Ordering for the unit

The demands of the unit determine the schedule for re-ordering stamps. The unit must maintain stock levels to meet customer demands. Guidelines are listed in the Handbook F-101, Field Accounting Procedures Handbook and review your servicing center web site at: http://blue.usps.gov/purchase/assetmgnt/am_sdchome.htm .

- SFS recommends that units plan their ordering schedule not to need Emergency orders unless for a customer request.
- Orders placed in SFS Web do not require approval from a designated approver. eAccess approval is required for SFS Web.
- SFSs ship all orders with 2 – 3 day delivery service using First-Class Mail or Priority Mail with Signature Confirmation.*
- Most commemorative stamps are printed for a 90 day supply which results in less printing and destruction costs. Customers can purchase commemorative stamps from the Stamp Fulfillment Service at https://shop.usps.com
- Emergency orders-entered and approved before 12:00PM (your local SFS time zone) will be processed the same day for delivery via Priority Mail with Signature Confirmation. If the unit requests Priority Mail Express the fee will be charged to the PRU.

Units should order and ensure that they have the following products:

- Stamps (Postage Stock)
- Stationery (Envelopes, postcards)
- Philatelic products
- Money orders (including Bait Money Orders)
- Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamps (Duck Stamps)

Maintain a Sufficient Inventory of Philatelic and Special Issue Products

- Professionally display Commemorative Stamp booklets, Passport Covers, holiday and special issues, etc.
- Pay closer attention to fast-moving items
- Maintain the Product and Merchandise list
- Maintain the Wrapped Product List (e.g., Commemorative stamps, Definitive or Regular Stamps, Stamped Cards, Envelopes, Books and Coils)
- Maintain Philatelic products inventory by keeping it in the retail floor stock

Receiving into the unit

When there are discrepancies in stock received you must follow these procedures:

1. Always pick up and enter the original value of the stock as listed on the stamp invoice or the manual/system generated PS Form 17
2. Retain the original packaging
3. Refer to the F-101, section 11-5.7, Accounting for Stamp Stock Shipment Discrepancies
4. Always verify the shipment with a witness
5. Sign the shipment copy

6. Contact your servicing SFS
7. PS Form 8144 is now obsolete and no longer used. Please follow the instructions listed in the F-101, section 12-2.12 Stock Discrepancies in Sealed Packages
8. Immediately report to Headquarters Stamp Acquisition and Distribution, Quality Assurance via email to HQ Stamp Quality Assurance if the discrepancies exceed the limits outline in the F-101, section 12-2.12.
9. National Financial Snapshot website: http://nfs
10. Follow the Reports acquisition workflow to obtain your unit's Excess Retail and Unit Reserve Stock levels.
11. Go to the SFS Website: http://blue.usps.gov/accounting/stampfulfillmentsys/sfstoolkit.htm
12. Go to the SFS Toolkit to read about ordering procedures.
    a. Enter the shipment into inventory and verify that the balance is correct
    b. Enter the shipment into the appropriate retail equipment
    c. File the paperwork

Issue money orders to a Sales and Services Associate

- Issue money orders in accordance with the POS Procedures Guide, section 22.3.3.
- The Sales and Services Associate will acknowledge the shipment
- Maintain a domestic (bait) money order log with serial numbers, date received and employee names (printed and signed).
- Maintain copies of PS Form 17s for all money orders issued to employees.
- Verify that the receiving employee and a witness have signed it.

Return stock from the retail floor to the Unit Reserve

- Return stock in accordance with the retail equipment procedures guide (POS Procedures Guide, section 22.1.2, Receive Inventory from Segment, sections 22.2 thru 22.2.2), and F-101 Handbook, Chapter 11, sections 11-6 thru 11-6.11.2. Return Redeemed Stock to the SDC. Guidelines outlining how to prepare your stamps for return or destruction can be found at the Stamp Fulfillment System (SFS) website: http://blue.usps.gov/accounting/stampfulfillmentsys/sfstoolkit.htm

Sending stock for destruction

The SFS schedules all stamp return cycles each calendar year. Typically there is a designated two week period per quarter or four times per year to return off sale/customer redeem stamps, and once (January) for the international Reply Coupons (IRCs). *

- Remove all redeemed and off sale stock from unit reserve to be shipped for destruction
- Count stock
- A witness must independently verify the count
- Properly package the stock for return in accordance with local policy
- Complete PS Form 17 in quadruplicate for each package
- Enter the shipment on the retail equipment
- File the paperwork

Return stock to Stamp Distribution Center (SDC)

For credit

- Return saleable stock, expired bird stamps, and exchanged IRCs to the SFS for credit – not destruction
- The SDC schedules all stamp return cycles each calendar year. Typically there are three or four times a year to return off sale/customer redeem stamps.
- Bird stamps are returned in accordance with the Postal Bulletin
- IRCs are returned in accordance with the Postal Bulletin (annual submission to designated SDC).

4B Perform Counts

Objective

Establish a credit and perform a count using the correct procedures. Refer to Handbook F-101 Field Accounting Procedures, Chapter 13, Stamp Stock and Cash Credits.

Objectives

1. Establish a credit (cash and stamps)
2. Compare the types of accountability
3. Review necessary steps to perform a count

Why is this important?

We must comply with financial policies and procedures and ensure financial integrity.

Any office shortage directly affects revenue. One of the goals of the USPS is to decrease shortages.

Accuracy is the important thing.

Establishing credits

Complete and retain PS Form 3369-P, Consigned Credit Receipt. Establish a cash retained credit via a cash transfer (*POS One Procedures Guide, Section 20.2.3 and F101, Chapter 8, AICs 247 and 647, section 8-6.2)

Establish an exact $100.00 cash credit for a new employee. A SSA physically takes $100.00 from his cash draw, then he/she follows the POS One Procedures Guide, Section 20.2.3 workflow to electronically send the data to the (new) receiving employee's terminal – for acceptance. This transaction is recorded in AIC 647 on the transferring employee's 1412. The new SSA receives a pending transfer message on his/her terminal and electronically accepts the $100.00 amount. This transaction is recorded in AIC 247 on accepting employee's 1412.

PS Form 3369-P, Consigned Credit Receipt should contain the following:

- The name and work location of the employee accepting or holding the cash/stamp credit
- The maximum cash to be retained
- The signature of the person issuing the credit and the date - the employee who accepts the responsibility for the credit will date and sign the form

When canceling a credit, all cash monies are turned in, and coins are absorbed with AIC 247/647 to another SSA. You must return all money orders back to the unit

When canceling a credit, write "Void" across the form 3369-P

PS Forms 3369-P should be retained for 2 years, plus current fiscal year.

Set up a file for each employee containing all audit and stamp credit forms

What gets counted and when

There are two different types of accountability:

- Unit Reserve Accountability
- Segmented Inventory Accountability

Counts have to be done regularly. Counts are done for:

- Cash Retained
- Unit Cash Reserve
- Unit Reserve Stamp Stock
- Retail Floor Stock
- Self Service Kiosk

The required frequency for each count is listed on page 3 (in this job aid) and in the Handbook F-101, Chapter 13, section 13-9.1-Counts.

Who conducts counts

Segmented Inventory Accountability (SIA) cash retained credit counts may be conducted by an LSSA, however, stamp credits (unit reserve stock) must be examined by someone with a supervisory role as described in the Handbook F-101.

Follow these general SIA count guidelines

In all units

The LSSA must conduct the cash counts as described in the Handbook F-101. Postmaster, manager, or supervisor responsible for the unit designates a management employee to conduct all counts. These guidelines must be followed:

- All counts must be conducted independently
- Do not give advanced notice of the count
- Stagger dates so that a pattern will not be evident to the employees being counted
- Conduct the count during the SSA's normal workday
- Comply with the count frequencies published in the Handbook F-101 and as outlined in Article 28 of the APWU National Collective Bargaining Agreement.

PS Forms used in counts

Use these forms when conducting counts:

- PS Forms 3294, Cash and Stamp Stock Count and Summary, or system-generated PS Form 3294 along with the system-generated counts sheets. (Retention period is two years.)
- System-generated PS Form 3294-APC, APC Credit Examination, along with system-generated count sheets. (The retention period is 2 years.)
- PS Form 3368P: Accountability Examination Record (The retention period is 2 years.)
- PS Form 571: Discrepancy of $100 or More in Financial Responsibility (The retention period is 2 years.)

Prepare for counts

Collect materials

- Two copies of the PS Form 3294-C
- Calculators
- Pencils
- Ensure there are no "pending" financial adjustments or stamp stock in-transit before the count

Select the location for the count

Select a place in the unit that is:

- Quiet
- Away from the retail area
- Has sufficient area in which to work

Conduct the count

Allow no interruptions to the count process!

- Announce the count
- Stay with the employee the entire time.
- Independent counts must be done by the examiner and employee – using separate count sheets.

Correct Procedures that Follow the Count

If the cash retained count has an overage or shortage of greater than $10.00, a supervisor and the employee must immediately conduct another count using PS Form 3294-C. Cash Overages are recorded in AIC 068 (POS systems will automatically clear the outstanding balance when 91 days has been reached or exceeded since creation) and cash shortages are recorded in AIC 764. The POS system will assign a nine digit reference number for employee shortages and generate a Letter of Demand for payment. This document can be challenged by the employee thru the grievance process.

If the Unit Reserve Stamp Stock, Unit Cash Reserve, Retail Floor Stock, or Employee Cash Retained audits result in an overage or shortage (discrepancy) of $100 or more, PS Form 571, Discrepancy of $100 or More in Financial Responsibility, must be completed and submitted to the District Finance Manager, appropriate OIG field office, and Postmaster/Manager. One copy must remain in the unit as supporting documentation.

Tips and tricks

- Submit signed PS Form 3294-C to the supervisor for posting to PS Form 3368. These should be properly filed-supporting documentation for the unit.

4C Unit Reserve & the Postal Bulletin

Use the Postal Bulletin (The official source of updates to Postal Service policies and procedures) to help you do your job as Unit Reserve Custodian (URC)

The Stamp Services section lists all First-Day-of Issue (FDOI)* for new stamps and postal stationery (i.e. postcards, envelopes).

Commemoratives

Commemorative Stamps are issued in observance of historical events, in honor of noted persons, and on topics of national importance. Each commemorative issue is printed in limited quantities and sold for a limited time. Units get automatic shipments of these items unless otherwise indicated that they must be ordered. To allow for effective inventory management, a notice appears in the Postal Bulletin one month prior to the official removal date. (P.O.M. Issue 9, chapter 18, section 18-10.1.7)

Regular (Definitive) Stamps

New Regular (Definitive) Stamps are issued in denominations ranging from 1¢ to $19.95 and should be kept in constant supply for ordinary postal needs. They are issued when the postage rates change or a new series is introduced. Units do not receive an automatic shipment of these items and must order them.

Stamps going off sale

Announcements and instructions on items being withdrawn from sale are published in the Postal Bulletin quarterly. *Follow the Return Stock to the SDC instructions listed in Handbook F101, Field Accounting Procedures, Chapter 11, Accountable Paper-Postal Retail Units, Section 11-6.5.

Regular features you can use in your work

- Each year the Postal Bulletin reviews the procedures for returning International Reply Coupons
- Each year the Postal Bulletin covers procedures for returning unsold Duck Stamps (Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamps)
- Present and Archived editions of the Postal Bulletin can be obtained on the blue page, listed under the Essential Links area.
- Also on the Web at about.usps.com/postal-bulletin

Notes:

*First Day of Issue (POM Postal Operations Manual, Chapter 2, section 232.1-9

232 First Day of Issue

232.1 First Day of Issue Sales Policy

For each new stamp or stationery item being issued, a designated Post Office is assigned as the official first day of issue city. For purposes of this section, the word "issue" means postage stamp, stamp booklet, booklet pane, postal card, postal stationery, or stamped envelope.

232.3 First Day of Issue Postmarks

First day of issue postmarks are provided by designated Post Offices for each new stamp or stationery item being issued. The postmark reflects the official issuance date and location. First day of issue postmarks may be either metal die, rubber composition, or digitally produced in color. In each postmark, the words "First Day of Issue" appear in the design. Requests for first day of issue postmarks must be postmarked no later than 60 days from the issuance date to qualify for servicing. When the conventional first day of issue postmark cannot cancel all the unused stamps on an item presented for postmarking, a Bull's-eye (1-inch) postmark is used.

Tips and tricks

- Keep your stock neat and tidy so that it is easier to find items and to order needed items
- Number your money order boxes so they stay in numeric order for dispensing to SSAs
- Verify your totals on PS Form 17 against your retail system when inputting the stock order into the retail equipment. The totals should match
- Keep a log of money orders by serial number, date, and employee signature

Tips for Displaying Products

Follow these guidelines:

Rotate stock! Rotate your stock when replenishing the stock on the slatwall. Rotating means placing the new stock behind the old stock and in a new arrangement. This allows the older stock to sell first and prevents the unsightly appearance given by shrink-wrapped packages that are curling over.

No empty space! Never leave an empty space. Empty space gives the impression that we do not have the product that the customer is looking for.

No worn merchandise! Replace display items when they become dirty or dog-eared. You could have books from collector sets and folios on display for your customers to look through. After a while these items will become worn looking. Replace them with new products and submit the old product for destruction.

Good lighting! Make sure that your lighting above the slatwall is directed properly. They should be shining on the product you have displayed. This will highlight the product and make it more visible to your customers. The lights swivel and slant to facilitate this adjustment.

High profit items visible! Display your high profit items at eye level if possible. Items geared for children should be at their eye level.

Complimentary merchandize near each other! Display items that complement each other.
You want to create a buying opportunity. For example, display the Endangered Species stamps with the Souvenir Program and the Collector cards on either side.

Vary location of new items! Place new items in different areas of the slatwall. People are used to seeing something at the same location. This causes a product to lose its impact.

When items don't sell, move them! When items stop selling as well, move them to a different location. For example, place a section of commemoratives in the Domestic Postage area.

Pair hot sellers with slow sellers! Place slow selling items next to a hot item. Try placing a slow selling commemorative next to self-adhesive stamps.

Give big sellers more rows or facings! Give more rows or facings, to an item that is a big seller, cut down on the number of rows or facings of an item that is not selling.

Use gondolas to move slow-moving items! If you have gondolas, place your slow moving items on the side facing the queue line.
